

Jack, 22, is a student looking to get into the medical field. He is currently working as a transporter in a hospital to gain an understanding of how a hospital runs. Within the RIS, he wants to be able to easily view the patient's name, which modality they require, and where they should go to be serviced.

r